Demonstrating and Tutoring

What is demonstrating and what do I need to do?

There are opportunities to act as a demonstrator in undergraduate and MSc classes; to assist in practical laboratory, computing or problem solving sessions. This provides valuable experience, some income, and an opportunity to become more involved in the teaching work of the School of Biological Sciences. PhD students should first consult their supervisor. Demonstrating on courses administered by the Biology Teaching Organisation (BTO) is coordinated by Dr Ann Haley/Louise Hann (bto.demonstrators@ed.ac.uk).

If interested please:

1. Register to be a demonstrator: [Registration Form (Requires EASE login)] - to indicate which courses suit your area of expertise.
   - You MUST include your National Insurance number. If you don't have one, you will need to apply for one from https://www.gov.uk/apply-national-insurance-number. Please keep your registration up to date.

2. Apply for the BTO demonstrator vacancy on https://www.vacancies.ed.ac.uk/. The demonstrator vacancy reference number for 2018/19 is 044320. No CV, personal statement or references required. Enter N/A (not applicable) when the application form asks for CV, personal statement or references.

3. Attend a BTO demonstrator induction course (you will be invited to the course after you have accepted a specific demonstrating role).

4. Demonstrate your eligibility to work in the UK by presenting appropriate documents at the main BTO office (JCMB 2105) before starting work. The office is open from 0900-1700, Monday to Friday.

   - Evidence of eligibility to work in the UK must be obtained from ALL recruits before an offer of employment is made, before the contract of employment is issued and before the employees start date.
   - The documents suitable to demonstrate your eligibility to work in the UK are described on the checklist that you will be required to submit. For most students this will be a passport or ID card, and visa where appropriate.
   - Visas must be either Biometric or must be in a valid passport.
   - For some nationalities there are additional requirements eg. an accession worker authorisation document (for those who are Croatian). It is your responsibility to bring the correct documentation for your nationality. If in doubt contact hrscieng@ed.ac.uk.

For more information on the processes for the production of contracts and payments, please look at our 'Information for Demonstrators' page. There is also BTO eTime Guidance and eTime guidance from Finance.

For those who wish to terminate their contract please fill out the End of Employment form (complete the boxes which are shaded yellow) and send to bto.demonstrators@ed.ac.uk.

Useful Information Regarding Demonstrating

Preparation:

- Demonstrators are expected to have read any notes regarding a session beforehand and be familiar with what is expected during a particular session.
- Disclosure Scotland: Disclosure Scotland certificates obtained via the Protecting Vulnerable Groups Scheme are no longer required by either tutors or demonstrators.

Courses:

- The next Demonstrator Training Course is 30 November 2018. No demonstrating will be permitted until you have attended. Attendance is by invite only. Please attend training at the earliest opportunity.
- The Demonstrator Feedback session for new demonstrators was held in April 2018.
- The next Tutor Training Course for postdocs will take place on 31 August 2018. Please email Nadia.Tuzi@ed.ac.uk if interested in attending.
- Other courses are provided by the Institute for Academic Development, but to demonstrate for Biological Sciences you must have attended a BTO training session.
